CLUB HISTORY

The California Angels were born out of a romance between a cowboy singer and baseball.

Gene Autry, just as he did so often in the Saturday matinees, rode in to make a dramatic rescue at the American League expansion meeting in December, 1960. He went to St. Louis seeking radio rights for his Golden West Broadcasting firm and came back as Chairman of the Board of the Los Angeles Angels.

How Autry and club president Bob Reynolds whipped together a representative squad for opening day 1961 is strictly Hollywood script material. In a whirlwind four months, they hired Fred Haney as general manager and Bill Rigney as field boss and constructed a team of mostly rejects and rookies. Surprise! The heroes of renovated Wrigley Field won 70 games to finish eighth in a field of 10.

In 1962 the Angels further startled the baseball world. They had moved into Dodger Stadium and into the hearts of underdog lovers everywhere. For one euphoric day, the traditional Fourth of July milestone, they were in first place. They ended the year perched in third as attendance nearly doubled to 1,144,063. Bo Belinsky pitched the club's first no-hitter on May 5.

Performance dropped off with the exception of Dean Chance's Cy Young Award season (1964) until the club moved to Anaheim in 1966 and changed its name to California Angels. A club record 1,400,321 fans passed through gleaming Anaheim Stadium to launch major league sports in Orange County. On the field, the highlight was the development of Jim Fregosi and Bobby Knoop as the league's premier double-play combination.

Anaheim got its first taste of pennant fever in 1967 when the Angels won 34 of 46 games to move within 1½ games of the lead on July 25. Minnie Rojas was on his way to A.L. Fireman of the Year laurels and newcomer Don Mincher powered the offense. A five-game losing streak ended July and the pennant dream as the club settled for fifth place.

The 1968 season was a forgettable year. Mincher was beamed, Rojas suffered an arm injury and then a paralyzing auto crash and the club lost a record 95 games. Changes came the following year as expansion brought about divisional play. Dick Walsh replaced Haney as general manager and one-fourth of the way through the year Rigney was replaced by Harold "Lefty" Phillips, who drove the club to a strong finish and third place.

The 1970 season brought Anaheim its most serious pennant threat. League batting champion Alex Johnson (.329) and 22-game winner Clyde Wright paced a club which was only three games behind Minnesota on Sept. 4. But the Twins swept an Anaheim series and the Angels settled for third and a record-equaling 86 wins. Wright also threw the first no-hitter in Big A history.

Tony Conigliaro's surprise retirement, surgery for Fregosi and suspension of Johnson blunted the efforts in 1971. On the plus side, Andy Messersmith became a 20-game winner with an exciting stretch drive.

New leadership arrived in 1972. Harry Dalton replaced Walsh and hired Del Rice to supplant Phillips. Dalton's first move was to trade Fregosi to the New York Mets for erratic pitcher Nolan Ryan, outfielder Lee Stanton and two others.

Another big trade and a manager culled from the collegiate ranks sent 1973 off to a rousing start. Frank Robinson, Bill Singer, Bob Valentine and Bill Grabarkewitz came from the Dodgers and helped put the Angels in first place in late June. But Valentine fractured a leg and new skipper Bob Winkles settled for fourth place. Interest centered on Ryan as he compiled one of the greatest seasons in baseball annals. He struck out a record 383 batters, pitched two no-hitters and won 21 games.

A major overhaul was made midway through 1974 when the club faltered on its way to its first last-place finish. Dick Williams replaced Winkles in July and went with a youth movement. Singer, who had won 20 games in 1973, missed most of the year with a back injury and Robinson was traded to Cleveland. Ryan won 22 games, pitched a third no-hitter and fanned 367 to become the first man in history to strikeout 300 in three consecutive seasons.

Reynolds resigned as president and Arthur E. "Red" Patterson became his successor prior to the 1975 season, which became the year of the "rabbits." At Williams' instigation, the club reinstituted the running game and became the first team since 1918 to steal more than 200 bases, totaling 220. Mickey Rivers led the league with 70 and three mates had more than 20. But further injuries to Singer and year-long ailments to Ryan, who nevertheless tossed his fourth no-hitter, led to a sixth-place finish.

To solve the obvious power shortage—the Angels hit only 55 home runs, fewest in the major leagues—Dalton acquired sluggers Bobby Bonds and Bill Melton prior to the 1976 campaign. "It took us a year to hit 55 homers but we picked up 47 in a few hours with those trades," he said.

GENE AUTRY

Chairman of the Board

There aren't many goals that have eluded California Angels Chairman of the Board GENE AUTRY. The popular former cowboy star exemplifies the American dream. Autry parlayed a high school education and start as a telegrapher in Chelsea, Okla., into a business dynasty. A strong desire to succeed, a lust for work and a knack for being one step ahead of his time, the congenial tycoon finds himself holding a majority interest in Golden West Broadcasters (KMPC radio, KTLA television, Los Angeles; KSFO, San Francisco; KVI, Seattle and KEX Portland); a national radio time sales firm; a CBS radio and television outlet in Phoenix; the Gene Autry Hotel in Palm Springs plus other investments. During his career as an entertainer, Autry appeared in 95 feature films and a 13-part series entitled, "The Phantom Empire." His recordings have reached sales of 40 million and include NINE "Gold" records, topped by 10 million sales of "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer." Gene and Ina Mae, his bride of 44 years, now reside in a comfortable 10-room Colonial style home in the Hollywood Hills. It's a long way from the Oklahoma sandlots where Autry once played semi-pro baseball ("I've always been a frustrated ballplayer. I could hit good, but I wasn't very fast"). He entered the Angels picture through the side door in late 1960. "We'd always been known as a sports station (KMPC)," said Autry, "and we'd been carrying the Dodgers for three years, but they went to another station and left us without a ballclub." A group headed by Hank Greenberg seemed in line for a new American League franchise in southern California, but its bid collapsed. We decided to protect ourselves and buy the club," he added, "rather than broadcast someone else's games and promote them and build them up and have them switch somewhere else after three years." Golden West Broadcasters formed a subsidiary, Golden West Baseball, and on December 5, 1960, Gene and close associate Bob Reynolds joined the A.L. as co-owners of the Los Angeles Angels. Autry, who once took a correspondence course in business administration ("I had to learn to figure freight and ticket rates. I had to be able to keep the books balanced"), is a firm believer in surrounding himself with top talent. The Angels are a prime example. In President Red Patterson Executive Vice-President and General Manager Harry Dalton and field manager Dick Williams, he has three of the top men in the game.

ARTHUR E. (RED) PATTERSON

President

When Chairman of the Board Gene Autry named ARTHUR E. (RED) PATTERSON President of the California Angels on February 22, 1975, the personable Patterson immediately summed up his objectives. "The sale of tickets is my big goal," he stated. "Basically, Harry Dalton will come up with the product and I'll help sell it. There's no reason why the Angels shouldn't draw a million every year. And I think that people are going to be astounded when they see what we draw with a winner." A vigorous and gregarious individual, Patterson adds 50 years experience of baseball background as a writer and executive to the Angels front office staff. Getting out and meeting the people is a priority item on the Patterson agenda. He addresses more groups than anyone in the game. Patterson has averaged between 200-300 public appearances during the course of a year, including as many as three-a-day. It has been this vibrant attitude as a "doer" that has led, in part, to the outstanding promotional success of Patterson-affiliated organizations — the New York Yankees for eight years and 21 years with the Brooklyn/Los Angeles Dodgers. During this tenure, Patterson has been associated with 13 pennant-winning teams — six times with New York and seven with the Dodgers. From a director of publicity and promotions to Vice-President/Public Relations, the Yankees and Dodgers he has worked for have averaged 2,000,000 in attendance per season. The innovative and imaginative Angels president has been credited with a number of baseball firsts including the "tape measure home run" (a tremendous 565-foot homer hit by Mickey Mantle in Washington); Old-Timers Day (at Yankee Stadium) and it is generally agreed that he was the man responsible for suggesting large scale stocking of souvenirs for sale in ball parks. In 1946, Patterson became the first full-time publicity man employed by an individual club — the Yankees. His journalistic career spanned 20 years with the New York Herald Tribune. During those days he covered everything from dogs (he once authored a book on show canines) to Dodgers plus the Giants and Yankees. He spent one year as publicity director for the National League followed by an eight year hitch with New York and the ensuing 21 years (1954-1974) with the Dodgers. Patterson and his wife, Helen, reside in Fullerton. They'll celebrate — with their children and 15 grandchildren — wedding anniversary No. 45 in June.

HARRY DALTON

Executive Vice-President & General Manager

"I think the input is there and I think this is an organization which is just about to take off," said HARRY DALTON in evaluating the future of the California Angels. The statement was made BEFORE the energetic general manager engineered a pair of trades that brought Bobby Bonds and Bill Melton to Anaheim. "When you go position by position and look at our individual players, you can see all the young talent we have . . . players like Bruce Bochte, Jerry Remy, Dave Chalk, Dave Collins, Frank Tanana, Mike Miley plus Nolan Ryan, Lee Stanton and now Bonds and Melton." Since assuming his duties with California following appointment on October 27, 1971, the Amherst College graduate has completely rebuilt the Angels organization. Improvement in player procurement and the minor league program (the Angels minor league system was judged the best in baseball in 1974) has been apparent. The fruition of these efforts is now beginning to materialize on the major league level. The aggressive and progressive thinking Dalton, voted the Major League Executive of the Year in 1970, bears the responsibility of putting the club on the field, bringing together the manager and coaches and overseeing the operation of the minor league organization. It is not a position unfamiliar to Dalton. The West Springfield, Massachusetts native spent 18 years with the Baltimore Orioles. During this period he served as assistant farm director, farm director and Vice-President of Player Personnel. Under his guidance, the O's won two world championships and four American League pennants. The ability to consummate constructive trades is a Dalton standard. Included in this category are swaps that brought Baltimore Mike Cuellar, Don Buford, Pat Dobson and, with an assist from Lee MacPhail, Frank Robinson. However, of all the trades, perhaps the most intriguing was Dalton's first for the Angels. He sent Jim Fregosi to the New York Mets for four players—Nolan Ryan, Lee Stanton, pitcher Don Rose and catcher Francisco Estrada. Rose subsequently was traded to the Giants for pitcher Ed Figueroa. Figueroa and Mickey Rivers went to the New York Yankees for Bonds. So, in essence, Dalton traded Fregosi and Rivers for Ryan, Stanton and Bonds. Prior to entering baseball, Dalton was a sportswriter for the Springfield Daily News and later earned a Bronze Star while serving in Korea as a combat press officer (1st Lieutenant) in the Air Force. With wife Pat and daughters Kim, Cindy and Debbie, the Daltons reside in Tustin.

RICHARD HIRSHFELD WILLIAMS

Age: 46, turns 47 on May 7. Born: 5-7-29 in St. Louis, MO. Resides: Irvine, CA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 190. Batted and threw right. Married Norma Marie Mussato, 10-23-54. Children: Kathi, Rick and Marc. APPOINTED: June 27, 1974. First game was July 1.

"This year I'd have to say we'll finish among the top three clubs in our division," related DICK WILLIAMS, the man who will be starting his second full season as manager of the California Angels. For the past two years the Angels have finished in the cellar of the American League West. How does Williams justify his optimism? "There are several reasons. First, we obtained Bobby Bonds and Bill Melton. These two fellows will help our team tremendously both offensively and defensively. Next, we have more depth on the '76 Angels than we had on the pennant-winning Boston Red Sox in 1967. Keep in mind, our club will improve on sheer experience. And finally, we are a much closer knit organization than we were a year ago. It's up to us—me, Harry Dalton and our coaching staff—to instill a winning attitude on this club. We've already achieved that goal in part with the addition of Bonds and Melton," added Williams. Winning attitude is not just a phrase used by Williams. It is more properly a phrase that best describes Williams. "The No. 1 thing with Dick is that he wins. He won pennants in Boston and Oakland and is young enough to relate to today's players. He has proven leadership qualities," opined Dalton. For the record, Williams' teams have produced a .547 winning percentage—656 victories against 544 defeats. His clubs have won pennants in four of the eight seasons he has managed in the American League—1967 at Boston and '71-'73 at Oakland. Williams was selected as Manager of the Year by The Sporting News in 1967 and American League Manager of the Year by the Associated Press in 1971. "I demand only two things of my players," stated Williams. "One is that they give me 100 per cent of what they have each day. The other is that they not make mental mistakes." As a player, Williams spent 14 years in the major leagues (an infielder-outfielder) with Brooklyn, Baltimore, Cleveland, Kansas City and Boston. He compiled a lifetime batting average of .260.

24 VERNARD ARTHUR HOSCHEIT

Age: 53, turns 54 on April 1. Born 4-1-22 in Brunswick, NB. Resides: Plainview, NB. Ht.: 5-9. Wt.: 185. Batted and threw right. Married Helen Lavon Edwards, 5-26-42. Children: Cathy, Sheri, Billy. APPOINTED: Oct. 23, 1975.

VERN HOSCHEIT joins Manager Dick Williams' staff as first base coach with one of the most thorough backgrounds of anyone connected with the sport. He will be entering his 36th season of professional baseball this year. During his career, Hoscheit served as a player (catcher), coach, manager, scout, front office executive and league executive. "Vern will be instrumental in helping our catchers. He had Andy (Etchebarren) when he was just a rookie. I had Vern in Oakland for three years. He's just an excellent instructor and a good hard-nosed coach," said Williams. Hoscheit scouted for the Baltimore Orioles from 1962 through 1967. The following year he coached for the O's. From 1969-74, he held a similar post with the Oakland A's. Hoscheit served as a scout for California last year. His minor league playing career spanned 15 years (1941-55). A dozen years of managing found Hoscheit's charges winning pennants at McAlester (Soonier State League) in 1948 and at Joplin (Western Association) in 1952. Hoscheit, who attended American Business College in Omaha, Nebraska, served as President of the Three-I League in 1960-61.

26 BILLY ARNOLD MUFFETT

Age: 45, turns 46 on Sept. 21. Born: 9-21-30 in Monroe, LA. Resides: Monroe, LA. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 220. Batted and threw right. Married Janet Lusk, 12-16-50. APPOINTED: Aug. 23, 1974.

After serving three years as pitching coach for the St. Louis Cardinals, including the Redbirds pennant-winning seasons of 1967-68, BILLY MUFFETT joined the California Angels as minor league pitching coach in 1971. He remained in that capacity until being promoted to the Angels in August, 1974. Muffett aided in the development of pitching standouts Frank Tanana and Ed Figueroa. He divided his playing career among St. Louis, San Francisco and Boston. It was with the Bosox in 1960 that Billy enjoyed his finest major league season. Muffett posted a 6-4 record with a 3.24 ERA. A sound instructor with 15 years of pitching experience, Muffett once tossed a 10-0 no-hitter for Macon against San Antonio in the 1955 Texas League play-offs. Pitching for Monroe (Cotton States League) in 1951, Muffett was voted MVP after compiling a 22-9 record with a 2.25 ERA.

50 JAMES HARRISON REESE

Age: 70, turns 71 on Oct. 1. Born: 10-1-05 in New York, NY. Resides: Los Angeles, CA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 170. Batted left, threw right. Single. APPOINTED: March 30, 1972.

A year ago, the Los Angeles-Anaheim Chapter of the BBWAA voted its annual "Good Guy Award" to Angels Coach JIMMIE REESE. The handsome trophy merely signified what Reese has meant to so many people during the past 50-plus years since he first played his first professional season with the Oakland Oaks in 1924. The slick fielding second baseman, holder of numerous Pacific Coast League defensive records, was a former roommate and confidant of Babe Ruth during a two-year stint with the New York Yankees in 1930-31.

Despite being used sparingly by the Yankees, Reese fashioned a .346 average in 77 games during the '30 campaign. He later played briefly with the St. Louis Cardinals before completing his active career in 1939. Reese eventually served as a coach, manager and scout. Prior to joining the Angels, he scouted for the Montreal Expos in 1971-72. Reese has no peers when it comes to using the fungo bat. His forte is keeping the pitchers in condition by making them run for his well-placed fungo shots. Jimmie is no stranger to the Angels, either. He once served as a batboy for the PCL Angels from 1917-23 and later coached for the Cherubs from 1940-42.

GROVER S. RESINGER

Age: 60. Born: 10-20-15 in St. Louis, MO. Resides: Eolia, MO. Ht.: 5-9. Wt.: 180. Batted and threw right. Married Marguerite Goebel, 3-6-43. APPOINTED: Oct. 29, 1974.

"He's probably the best teacher in professional baseball today. He's a baseball man 24 hours a day," stated Manager Dick Williams in appraising the value of Angels coach GROVER RESINGER. Resinger, who remains in the dugout with Williams during games, is a stern disciplinarian. He coordinated camps for Williams while with the Oakland A's prior to the start of the 1972 and '73 seasons at Mesa, Arizona. A former infielder, Resinger adds 41 years of professional baseball experience to the Angels coaching staff. He spent six of those seasons as a minor league manager. Resinger also coached for the Atlanta Braves (1966); Chicago White Sox (1967-68) and Detroit Tigers (1969-70). In addition, he scouted for the St. Louis Cardinals and served as a minor league instructor for the A's prior to joining the Angels as a scout in 1974. "Grover is a great believer in working on the small things that seem incidental to some people but are quite necessary for a club to have a winning attitude," Williams concluded.

NORMAN BURT SHERRY

Age: 44, turns 45 on July 16. Born: 7-16-31 in New York, NY. Resides: Mission Viejo, CA. Ht.: 5-11. Wt.: 180. Batted and threw right. Married Mardie Brockway, 5-22-57. Children: Cindy, Pam, Mike. APPOINTED: Oct. 23, 1975.

It will be the second time around for former catcher NORM SHERRY when he assumes a coaching role for the Angels this year. Manager Dick Williams named Sherry his third base coach. Sherry previously had served as a bullpen coach for California in 1970-71 under the late Harold (Lefty) Phillips. Sherry culminated a five-year stint as a manager in the Angels minor league system last year by piloting the Salt Lake City Gulls to the Pacific Coast League Eastern Division title. He spent all or parts of five major league seasons with the Los Angeles Dodgers and New York Mets. Sherry has worked well with the Angels youngsters. During his managerial tenure, he has helped in the development of 24 players currently listed on the club's spring roster.

ROBERT GEORGE ALLIETTA

Age: 23, turns 24 on May 1. Born: 5-1-52 in New Bedford, MA. Resides: Falmouth, MA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws right. Married Debbie Ann Whelden, 2-15-75. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in January, 1971 free agent draft (secondary phase).

The 1975 season was an eventful one for BOB ALLIETTA, both good and bad. He went to spring training as a non-roster player, invited primarily to help tune up the numerous pitchers in camp. He showed outstanding defensive skills which earned him a trip to Anaheim early in May when injuries began decimating the Angels receiving corps. His debut came on May 6 at Oakland and he collected his first hit May 8. Bob was sent back to Salt Lake City in early June when Ellie Rodriguez came off the disabled list but soon returned when Andy Etchebarren broke a thumb on June 29. Allietta's opportunity to earn the No. 1 job didn't last long, however, as he, too, went on the shelf with a broken right hand suffered July 6 at Oakland. It wasn't until September that Bob could return. A late-season highlight was his first home run, a solo blow off Steve Busby at Kansas City on Sept. 14. Bob was selected to the Pacific Coast League All-Star team.

9 JOHN LAWRENCE BALAZ OF Age: 25. Born: 11-24-50 in Toronto, Canada. Resides: El Paso, TX. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws right. Married Bonnie Mae Bornstein, 9-24-75. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 5 selection in June, 1970 free agent draft.

JOHN BALAZ has shown tremendous power and run-producing abilities in the minor leagues and the Angels are hopeful two brief stints in the majors have prepared him to display those talents on a consistent basis. The quiet Canadian was "Player of the Year" in the California League in 1973 and the Texas League in 1974. Despite his batting prowess, John's greatest moments in the majors have come on defense. He made two outstanding plays in left field during Nolan Ryan's third no-hitter, Sept. 28, 1974. Twice he raced into the gap in left-centerfield to make over-the-shoulder catches. John's major-league debut was rather inauspicious. On Sept. 9, 1974, he was announced as a pinch-hitter but then removed after a pitching change. When he did get a chance to swing he collected seven hits in his first 17 at bats. His first home run came Sept. 24 at Kansas City. John was recalled last year on June 24. His lone home run came on July 26 vs. Minnesota.

BRUCE ANTON BOCHTE

Age: 25. Born: 11-12-50 in Pasadena, CA. Resides: Irvine, CA. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws left. Married Linda Kambestad, 3-10-73. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 2 selection in June, 1972 free agent draft.

BRUCE BOCHTE proved his worth to the Angels in 1975. Unfortunately, it was most vivid when he was absent for seven weeks with a broken thumb. While Bochte was in the lineup the Angels performed at the .500 level. While he was healing, the club suffered through a 19-33 spell. Bruce is looking forward to better health and run production in 1976. "I was shy in some categories. I didn't hit the home runs I should have and I'd like to have a few more RBI." Manager Dick Williams fully expects it from Bruce, who was the Angels leading hitter at .285. "I think Bruce will become a home run hitter. He has the frame for it and huge hands—about the same size as the late Gil Hodges. He's going to get stronger and as he gains experience he will generate more power." Bochte realizes he swings better against righthanders. "Against lefthanders I just try to make contact but against righthanders I will look for my pitch and try to hit it out." One of Bruce's homers last year triggered a wild brawl against Oakland. In a subsequent plate appearance he was brushed back and then struck on the cheek. That initiated a charge from the Angels' dugout against pitcher Jim Todd. The thumb injury proved more severe. It originally was injured on June 6 while he fielded a hard-hit ground ball. Examinations revealed only a bruise and he was back in the lineup a couple of days later and contributed a game-winning pinch-single and a three-hit day as late as June 22. But persistent pain instigated further examination and a fracture was discovered. Bruce didn't return until Aug. 13, when he launched a welcome-back 6-for-12 spree which included a home run and three doubles. Bruce spent part of his winter on a goodwill tour of Japan. "Those people take baseball more seriously because it's the only sport they have. We were mobbed everywhere we went. Their pitching and fielding are closer to being on a par with ours than their hitting." Bruce played baseball and basketball at Santa Clara University, where he earned a BA degree in finance.

25 BOBBY LEE BONDS OF Age: 29, turns 30 on March 15. Born: 3-15-46 in Riverside, CA. Resides: San Carlos, CA. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws right. Married Patricia Howard, 5-3-63. Children: Barry, Ricky, Bobby. ACQUIRED: From New York Yankees in exchange for Ed Figueroa and Mickey Rivers, 12-11-75.

The term "superstar" is thrown around loosely in modern sports. It seems it should take more than one or two above average seasons to merit such recognition. Something like the accomplishments of BOBBY BONDS. The new Angel has averaged 30 home runs, 86 runs batted in and 40 stolen bases over the past seven seasons while displaying great range and a tremendous arm in the outfield. Sparky Anderson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, certainly qualifies as an astute observer. "Bobby Bonds is one of the greatest players in the game. I don't know of anything he CAN'T do." Last year Bonds became the first player in history to steal 30 or more bases and hit 30 or more home runs in the same season for a third time. Only Willie Mays (twice), Tommy Harper, Henry Aaron and Ken Williams have earned membership in the exclusive "30-30" club. Bobby did it in 1975 on one leg. "I feel I would have hit 40 to 50 homers if I wasn't hurt. I was afraid to swing the bat and to steal because I was afraid I would hurt my knee. I tried to give the Yankees everything I had last year, to go out and impress everybody. All I did was put too much pressure on myself. I'm not going to make that same mistake twice. I'm going to be more relaxed and let things take care of themselves." Bonds' knee problem evaporated with winter rest so Bobby figures to negate most of what the Angels gave up in speed. "I hope to steal 50 bases, God willing, and I always feel I'll hit 20 homers just on natural strength." Bobby ranks fourth among active A.L. players in stolen bases and sports a dazzling lifetime success rate of .783 (80 CS). Most impressive to the Angels is Bobby's RBI record, remembering that he's been batting leadoff most of his career. "He will be in the No. 3 or 4 or 5 spot for us," said Dick Williams. Bobby doesn't care. "I've always batted leadoff so I can't comment on the difference. I'll bat wherever it will most help the club. I think I'll have a better year because now I know the pitchers in this league." Bobby also could find himself moving to centerfield. "I'm more comfortable in right but I can play center, too." Bonds' knee injury underwent intense scrutiny before the Angels completed the trade. Originally hurt in a fall in Chicago on June 7, the knee required only rest, something the August-September pennant push could not provide. October and November proved the cure and Bobby passed a punishing battery of tests in New York. "It's 100 per cent. I only hope I can contribute to the Angels. I'm not going to say I'm going to be the big difference on the club. I'll just do my share. But you can bet on one thing—the Angels will not finish in last place."

JAMES THOMAS BREWER

LHP

Age: 38. Born: 11-17-37 in Merced, CA. Resides: Broken Arrow, OK. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws left. Married Patricia Smith, 12-15-56. Children: Mark, Scott, Shanan. ACQUIRED: Claimed on waivers from Los Angeles Dodgers, 7-17-75. Pitcher Dave Sells was then sold to Dodgers' Albuquerque club.

Coming to the Angels proved to be a move made in heaven for JIM BREWER. The popular veteran was able to show the baseball world and himself that he still was one of the game's top relief specialists. "I had gotten discouraged while with the Dodgers. I wasn't getting enough work and began to think I couldn't get anybody out." Brewer, who had the right to veto the move as a 5 and 10-year man, added another dimension to the Angels rebuilt bullpen. He won his only decision and registered five saves in 21 appearances and had no recurrences of the back injury which plagued him in 1974. "I threw as well as I ever have. My screwball was better than it had been the last two years. I got to feeling they could depend on me and call on me anytime."

JIM BREWER

Brewer has been one of the game's premier relievers over the past decade. Between 1968 and 1973 he averaged 7 wins and 20 saves a year while making about 50 appearances. "Brewer gives us stability and intelligence from all points," said manager Dick Williams. "He can be very helpful to the young pitchers along with pitching coach Billy Muffett. His presence also gives us an opportunity to use lefthander Mickey Scott as a long man in relief."

DANIEL LEE BRIGGS

Age: 23. Born: 11-18-52 in Scotia, CA. Resides: Sonoma, CA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 180. Bats and throws left. Single. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 2 selection in June, 1970 free agent draft.

A wrist injury which severely curtailed his power production is a thing of the past and DAN BRIGGS is anxious to show the Angels what he can do. Dan broke his right wrist in winter ball early in 1975 and never fully regained his strength. He continued to hit for a fine average, .323 at Salt Lake City including a 17-game hitting streak, but failed to match his double-figure home run totals of previous seasons—18 in 1972, 16 in 1973 and 17 in 1974.

Briggs was called up to the Angels in September and made his debut as a pinch-runner on Sept. 10 in Chicago. His first start came the next game in Kansas City (Sept. 12) and included his first hit. Two days later he stroked his initial home run, a two-run shot which drove Steve Busby from the mound. Dan was signed as a first baseman-pitcher but gave up the mound after eight professional appearances. He also has played the outfield.

DAVID LEE CHALK

INF

Age: 25, turns 26 on Aug. 30. Born: 8-30-50 in Del Rio, TX. Resides: Arlington, TX. Ht.: 5-10. Wt.: 170. Bats and throws right. Married Mary Gayle Glaze, 9-23-72. Children: Amy. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in June, 1972 free agent draft.

In this national election year, most politicians should take some lessons from DAVE CHALK. The quiet Texan has proven that actions speak louder than words. Although his disdain for soapbox speeches has left him with a press clippings scrapbook which wouldn't provide fuel to roast a marshmallow, he gets out the vote. The 1975 All-Star balloting produced 974,114 supporters impressed by his record, not his rhetoric. The total was third largest in All-Star balloting history for a write-in and earned him his second All-Star berth. "I don't go around saying I'm the best third baseman in the league. I just do my job on the field and let people form their own opinion. It was gratifying to know people recognized me a little bit." Part of Dave's identity problem has stemmed from his uncertain position and the problem is with him again. "Playing shortstop is more of a challenge but playing third base allows me to think more about my hitting." Dave made it to the majors as a shortstop but was moved to third base midway through 1974 to plug a gap there and open a spot for untried rookies at short. There is reluctance to return him to short because of his brilliance at the "hot corner." "Dave is as good as any third baseman in the league and probably the best one right now," said Dick Williams. "He will be the next Brooks Robinson. He has a better arm and more speed," said Whitey Herzog, now the Kansas City manager. Offensively, Dave should benefit tremendously from the arrival of Bobby Bonds and Bill Melton. He will be positioned in the lineup to better suit his skills—excellent bunter and contact hitter, especially in the clutch. Last year he often found himself in the cleanup role. "What am I doing here?" he asked in his best General Custer voice. Williams commiserates. "I think there has been a lot of pressure placed on him unfairly the last two years. He thought he had to do it all . . . For temperament, drive, desire and team play, any manager would like to have 25 Dave Chalks." Dave was an All-American selection at the University of Texas, where he played third base. In the minor leagues he played second and short so he's used to the game of musical positions. He said it last year and it still applies: "I know I have a position, I just don't know which one."

DAVID S. COLLINS

Age: 23. Born: 10-20-52 at Rapid City, SD. Resides: Rapid City, SD. Ht.: 5-10. Wt.: 175. Bats left and right, throws left. Married Judy Kenyon, 2-15-75. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in January, 1972 free agent draft (second-year phase).

When it comes to speed, DAVE COLLINS has the market cornered. He possesses blinding running speed (9.6 in the 100-yard dash), hails from Rapid City and broke from the gate quickly in his major league debut, launching an early 15-game hitting streak. Naturally, he hopes to get off to a fast start in 1976. "I was pretty excited all winter. I'm so much more confident than last year because of my experience. I now know I can play in the majors. With the trades we made, I hope to fit into the club's plans in left field and it looks like it will be up to Jerry Remy and myself to get on base. I hope to steal about 50 bases and hit close to .300." Collins, winner of the 1975 Kenny Myers Memorial Award as the Angels' outstanding minor leaguer, reported to the Angels on June 7 last year and on June 10 started his 15-game streak, longest by an Angel in 1975. During that span he collected 24 hits in 57 at bats for a .421 mark. The highlight was a 5-for-6 evening on June 30 vs. Texas. Dave's 1976 goal of 50 stolen bases may be conservative. He stole 66 last year, counting the 32 at Salt Lake City in only 51 games. "I should have more opportunities to go this year. Last year some of us had to slow down because everyone was going all the time." Dave was a multi-sport star. Track was his first love and he still holds the South Dakota prep record for the century. He also had thoughts of a wide receiver's role in football. He attended Mesa Community College in Arizona.

29 LONNIE PAUL DADE INF-OF Age: 24. Born: 12-7-51 in Seattle, WA. Resides: Seattle, WA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 195. Bats and throws right. Married Valorie Evans, 11-14-73. Children: Lakaia, Derrick. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in June, 1970 free agent draft.

The 1975 season put PAUL DADE's name back in the Angels prospect book. The muscular infielder-outfielder's career was in a lengthy holding pattern before he suddenly took off last year and fought his way up to the major leagues despite two major obstacles. The first came late in May when he suffered a ruptured capillary in the stomach, the result of a basepath collision. Dade was batting around .350 and earned the Topps Player of the Month Award for May before being injured. The second obstacle arose when Paul got healthy. Butch Alberts had taken his spot at third base and was well on his way to the Texas League batting title so Dade was switched to second base. He continued his hot hitting as he finished second to Alberts in the batting race and won an All-Star berth. Dade batted a sizzling .545 in nine games at Salt Lake City on his way to Anaheim. He made his debut on Sept. 12 at Kansas City and got his first hit, a double, the next day off Doug Bird. Dade's combined totals of 19 home runs and 98 RBI were the top marks in the Angels' system.

39 STEVEN JOHN DUNNING RHP

Age: 26, turns 27 on May 16. Born: 5-16-49 in Denver, CO. Resides: Dallas, TX. Ht.: 6-2. Wt.: 205. Bats and throws right. Married Kim Marie Garlin, 9-19-70. ACQUIRED: From Chicago White Sox with Bill Melton in exchange for Jim Spencer and Morris Nettles, 12-11-75.

STEVE DUNNING may find himself with a new nickname—"Prof. Backwards"—if he earns a spot in the Angels rotation. The Stanford University graduate's career has been inverted. Steve was the Cleveland Indians' No. 1 draft pick in June, 1970 and was whisked directly from the campus to the major leagues. Only limited success resulted and Steve has spent the last two years gaining traditional seasoning in the minors. Last year he was selected "Pitcher of the Year" in the American Association after leading the loop with wins (15), complete games (16), innings (196) and strikeouts (139). The resulting confidence should reap big dividends. Steve's elation with his trade stemmed from two sources. One, he will be among the wide open competition for three starting berths and secondly, his in-laws live in Orange County. Father-in-law Dr. Jack Garlin is assistant director of public health for the county. Steve broke into the majors a winner, beating Milwaukee 9-2 on June 14, 1970, only days removed from Palo Alto. His first season was shortened by a six months tour of duty with the U.S. Marines. Steve was traded to Texas in 1973 for Dick Bosman and Ted Ford and traded to Chicago on Feb. 25, 1975 for Stan Perzanowski. He earned a BA degree in economics at Stanford.

Age: 32, turns 33 on June 20. Born: 6-20-43 in Whittier, CA. Resides: Hacienda Heights, CA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws right. Married Agnes Emrich, 1-13-62. Children: Kim, Lisa. ACQUIRED: Purchased from Baltimore Orioles, 6-15-75.

ANDY ETCHEBARREN's three-year dream to play for the Angels finally came to fruition in 1975 but the good fortune didn't last long. On June 29, only two weeks after "retiring" from the Baltimore Orioles, Andy suffered a broken thumb when struck by a foul tip in a game against Oakland. It was almost two months before he returned (Aug. 24) to the lineup and was able to offer his valued expertise to the young Angels pitching corps. "There couldn't have been anyone in the world happier than me when I heard I had become an Angel. I had made up my mind about retiring but with the Angels I now want to play as long as I can." Dick Williams concurs and has made Andy his No. 1 receiver, something he seldom heard in Baltimore despite universal acclaim as a key element in the Orioles' continually outstanding pitching. "Andy gives us great knowledge behind the plate and overall knowledge of the American League. He's the type of player who will play hurt and if he can't beat you with his bat, he'll do it with his glove or arm," said Williams. The broken finger was Andy's third such ailment. He broke one in July of 1966, missing three weeks, and suffered a hairline fracture in a game against the Angels on July 8, 1974. That cost him only two weeks. Andy's finest hour came when he caught every inning in the 1966 World Series when the Orioles swept the Dodgers, including three consecutive shutouts.

An outstanding 1975 season at El Paso and Salt Lake City has earned GIL FLORES his first major league roster berth. The speedy outfielder actually had better statistics on the Triple A level so he may be ready for another step forward. Flores' combined batting average of .320 was fourth best in the Angels' farm system. He also ranked high in stolen bases (third, 42); runs (second, 8); triples (fourth, 9) and hits (130). His .329 average at Salt Lake City was ninth best in the Pacific Coast League. Flores suffered a broken jaw on June 4 when hit by a pitch. Upon his return he was struck again but the incident did not faze him as he promptly started a 7-game hitting streak and finished strong. Flores is a former boxer. During the winter he played for Ponce in the Puerto Rican League.

Age: 33. Born: 1-3-43 in Brooksville, FL. Resides: Naples, FL. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws left. Married Linda Thurman, 9-5-68. Children: Angie, Jason. ACQUIRED: Purchased from Chicago Cubs' Wichita club on July 3, 1975.

Six home runs in only 107 at bats made ADRIAN GARRETT the Angels' most explosive hitter last year and represented his longest period of continuous service in the major leagues. "I always thought I could help some club if given the opportunity," said Adrian, whose busiest previous season was 1973 when he batted 54 times for the Cubs. Garrett started quickly after being purchased. He joined the club on Aug. 1 in Texas and in his first eight at bats got three hits including two home runs and five runs batted in. His four subsequent home runs all came at the Big A. The most important was a pinch-hit, three-run blast which ended the Angels' longest game of the year, a 16-inning 3-0 win over Chicago on Sept. 22. Garrett served as a first baseman, rightfielder and designated hitter for the Angels. He did considerable amounts of catching with the Cubs and A's in a backup role. His past winter was spent in Venezuela playing for Aragua. Adrian is the older brother of Wayne Garrett of the New York Mets.

20 DANIEL KAY GOODWIN C

Age: 22, turns 23 on Sept. 2. Born: 9-2-53 in Peoria, IL. Resides: Peoria, IL. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 195. Bats left, throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in June, 1975 free agent draft.

"A top-notch major-league hitter." That's the consensus of opinion on DANNY GOODWIN, the nation's No. 1 selection in last June's free agent draft. "The equipment is there," said general manager Harry Dalton. "Whether it will take 25 or 150 games at the professional level to prepare him for the majors is difficult to say." Goodwin got off to a slow start as a pro due to six weeks of inactivity between the end of his season at Southern University (Baton Rouge, LA.) and his signing. He finished strong at El Paso and then hit a solid .298 in the Arizona Instructional League with one home run and 29 RBI in 48 games. In between he made his major league debut, serving strictly as a designated hitter. His first hit came Sept. 5 off Kansas City's Steve Busby. "I have confidence in myself and I don't think the pressure of being a No. 1 pick in the pros can be any greater than it was when I went to Southern after being the country's No. 1 pick out of high school." Goodwin was drafted No. 1 by the Chicago White Sox in June, 1971 but opted for Southern and a BA in pre-med studies. His coach was Emory Hines, who also tutored St. Louis' Lou Brock. Danny had a career batting average of .394.

15 ISAAC BERNARD HAMPTON C-INF

Age: 24, turns 25 on Aug. 22. Born: 8-22-51 in Camden, SC. Resides: Camden, SC. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 185. Bats left and right, throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: From New York Mets in exchange for Ken Sanders, 3-22-75.

IKE HAMPTON will be a strong contender for the backup catching job to Andy Etchebarren in 1976. Ike exhibited a powerful throwing arm in limited duty last year and appears to have extra-base punch at the plate as well as good running speed for a receiver. "I liked what I saw of him," said manager Dick Williams. "We had some trouble throwing out rival runners but not with Ike. He's got a super arm." Ironically, the Angels got Hampton when the Mets gave up on him as a catcher. "At least that's the way they saw it," he said. "I think they wanted to shift me to make room for someone else." Hampton went to Salt Lake City as the No. 3 receiver but his impressive play, including 10 home runs and 51 RBI in 76 games, coupled with Angels injuries earned him rapid advancement. Hampton was called up July 8. Later he also played infield positions.

42 ANDREW EARL HASSLER LHP

Age: 24. Born: 10-18-51 in Texas City, TX. Resides: Phoenix, AZ. Ht.: 6-5. Wt.: 215. Bats and throws left. Married Debra Wines, 2-10-73. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1969 free agent draft.

It's the Angels' $64,000 question. What happened to ANDY HASSLER? The lanky southpaw asserted himself as one of the A.L.'s top pitchers late in 1974 and appeared to be on the verge of greatness with a quick start in 1975. But after winning three of his first four decisions, Andy failed to win again. Dick Williams tried everything—from leaving him in the rotation to sending him to the bullpen to offering encouraging talks. "He has the equipment. He proved that in 1974 and last spring." After compiling the third-best ERA in the league at 2.61 in 1974, Andy earned himself a spot in the 1975 starting foursome. He won his opener, 4-3 in 10 innings vs. Chicago, pitching shutout ball the final six innings. He absorbed one defeat after two rough outings but then shutout Oakland with a five-hitter on April 25 and followed that up with an easy 12-1 complete game at Kansas City on April 29. Then followed a heartbreaking 1-0 loss on a four-hitter in Texas and, after a 4-1 loss to Boston, a 4-3 10-inning squeaker to New York. The crusher probably came June 27 vs. Oakland. Andy had chalked up a career high 9 strikeouts through 6-2/3 innings but saw his 3-1 lead evaporate on a misplayed ball in centerfield. After a winter pitching in Puerto Rico, the Angels are hopeful Hassler has regained the form he displayed in 1974.

RONNIE D. JACKSON

Age: 22, turns 23 on May 9. Born: 5-9-53 in Birmingham, AL. Resides: Bessmer, AL. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 205. Bats and throws right. Married Marva Turner, 2-1-75. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 2 selection in June, 1971 free agent draft.

RON JACKSON broke into the major leagues in style late in 1975, ripping four hits in his first five at bats. Ron's debut came Sept. 12 at Kansas City in the second game of a doubleheader. In his first at bat, he singled off Al Fitzmorris and stole second base. After a strike out, he got another hit off Fitzmorris and followed that the next day with a single and double off Doug Bird. Jackson has been rated one of the Angels' top prospects since signing in 1971 and he appears to be on the verge of sticking with the big club after making the Pacific Coast League All-Star team last year. Durable and versatile, Jackson played in more games and had more at bats than any other Angel farmhand last year. In 1972 he led the Midwest League in both categories. In 1973 he received the "Gene Lawing Memorial Award" as player who did most for baseball off the field by helping young players in the El Paso area. Jackson's primary position is third base but he played the outfield for the Angels. During the winter he played for Santurce in Puerto Rico.

33 DONALD PAUL KIRKWOOD RHP

Age: 26, turns 27 on Sept. 24. Born: 9-24-49 at Pontiac, MI. Resides: Clawson, MI. Ht.: 6-3, Wt.: 188. Bats and throws right. Married Connie Keith, 3-29-69. Children: Christine. ACQUIRED: Signed as free agent by Jim Terrell, 2-11-72.

It's a big assignment for DON KIRKWOOD but he's been there before. The Angels are looking to the tall redhead to fill Ed Figueroa's spot in the starting rotation. "Ed went from 2 wins to 16 last year and we are confident Don can do the same thing," said Dick Williams. Kirkwood faced an equally tough task last year, being asked to anchor the bullpen despite a total of 8 innings of major league experience. He responded brilliantly, registering a club high 7 saves. "I had been a reliever during my four years as a pro so I was used to it and satisfied with that role. But there's nothing like starting. You know what you have to do." Don isn't a total stranger to the rotation, having spent the past two winters as a starter. In 1974 he set a Mexican League record by completing 16 of 17 starts. Kirkwood got a late start in baseball, not pitching until he attended Oakland (Michigan) University. "The first time I pitched was in a summer sandlot league when I was 18. My manager handed me the ball and asked if I'd like to try pitching. I won 10 in a row. I think the reason my arm is so strong today is because I didn't pitch until late so I haven't thrown that many innings." Don's first major-league win was a heart-stopper. He was tagged for a game-tying home run with two out in the ninth and then had to pitch out of a bases-loaded, nobody out jam in the 11th of a game in Milwaukee June 15. Two ground balls to Dave Chalk produced three outs and Don got the win in 12 innings with help from Mickey Scott.

Age: 22. Born: 1-19-54 in Jamaica, NY. Resides: Hollis, NY. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 210. Bats and throws left. Married Kathleen McGoldrick, 1-27-73. Children: Edward, III. ACQUIRED: Drafted from Detroit's Evansville club, 12-8-75.

Manager Dick Williams calls the Angels' depth in 1976 their best in several seasons and ED KURPIEL is one of the big reasons. The powerful young first baseman is being counted upon to provide long-ball capabilities off the bench and fill in at either first base or the outfield with a better than adequate glove. "Kurpiel has good power," said general manager Harry Dalton. "We don't know if he is ready now but we think he has a chance to make the big club." Kurpiel was a No. 1 selection of the St. Louis Cardinals in the June, 1971 free agent draft. He advanced as high as their Triple A (Tulsa) club before being traded to Montreal in a deal for Ron Fairly. He got off to a slow start with the Expos' Memphis club last year and was traded to the Tigers. At Evansville he was a catalyst in the Triplets winning the American Association pennant and Little World Series title with numerous clutch hits.

JOSEPH MICHAEL LAHOUD, JR.

Age: 28, turns 29 on April 14. Born: 4-14-47 in Danbury, CT. Resides: Danbury, CT. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws left. Single. ACQUIRED: From Milwaukee Brewers with Ellie Rodriguez, Gary Ryerson, Ollie Brown and Skip Lockwood in exchange for Clyde Wright, Ken Berry, Steve Barber and Art Kusnyer, 10-22-73.

The personal plight of JOE LAHOUD in 1975 closely paralleled the season for the entire Angels squad. He was off to one of his best seasons when a mysterious back ailment sidelined him sporadically in June and July and finally disabled him completely in August and September. Diagnoses included a pinched nerve, a separated rib and a muscle pull in addition to disc problems. A combination of exercise and rest over the winter apparently have alleviated the problem. "The doctors say there's a good chance the injury has been stabilized and I should be able to continue playing four or five years. I played a lot of tennis during the winter and did some sliding and swinging a bat and there were no problems." Lahoud was leading the club with 6 home runs and had 23 runs batted in by June 12 in only 101 at bats before the injuries struck, severely affecting his swing. He officially was placed on the disabled list Aug. 18. "I felt left behind all season. The year before was the happiest of my career." In 1974, Lahoud batted a career-high .271 with 13 home runs. His .458 slugging percentage was 12th best in the American League. He played in a career-high 127 games as a platooned outfielder, designated hitter, pinch-hitter and late-inning defensive replacement. On June 11, 1969, Lahoud hit three home runs in a game at Minnesota. In addition to his rehabilitation program this past winter, Lahoud launched a jewelry business.

RICHARD OTTO LANGE

RHP

Age: 27, turns 28 on Sept. 1. Born: 9-1-48 in Harbor Beach, MI. Resides: Freeland, MI. Ht.: 5-9. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws right. Married Judith Majewski, 5-29-75. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1970 free agent draft.

The 1975 season was a time of rehabilitation for DICK LANGE, who proved his right arm was sound after major surgery. Lange underwent surgery on Sept. 16, 1974 for removal of bone chips and a nerve transfer in his elbow. The injury normally requires a full year before total strength is regained so the muscular righthander should be 100 per cent this spring in his bid for a spot in the starting rotation. Lange has adjusted well to his previous roles as spot starter and sometimes reliever the past three years. "I've been satisfied to be the fifth starter, pitching in doubleheaders and so on. One of these years we're going to win and everybody will be able to help." The highlight of 1975 was a complete-game, 6-1 win over Minnesota in Anaheim on July 27. A Tony Oliva home run in the ninth inning ruined Lange's bid for his first major league shut-out. "One of these days I'm going to get one and that's a promise. Actually, I just wanted to get three outs in the ninth before they got six runs." Dick Williams is confident of a full effort from Lange whenever he calls upon him. "He's got as much courage as anyone on the club. He always gives you everything he has." Lange broke into professional baseball rather auspiciously. He fashioned a 13-0 record with a league-leading 1.95 ERA and 151 strikeouts at Idaho Falls in 1970.

WILLIAM EDWIN MELTON

Age: 30, turns 31 on July 7. Born: 7-7-45 in Gulfport, MS. Resides: Mission Viejo, CA. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 195. Bats and throws right. Married Judy Rybak, 2-13-65. Children: Jennifer, Billy. ACQUIRED: From Chicago White Sox with Steve Dunning in exchange for Jim Spencer and Morris Nettles, 12-11-75.

The unbearable nightmare has become a dream. BILL MELTON, unhappy and berated in Chicago, now has his long-sought chance to be cheered in Anaheim. "I had to get out of Chicago. People turned against me and if I had to go back I probably would have quit baseball. To be traded was one thing, but to be traded where I wanted to go is a dream come true. I think this is the start of a new career." One of the people happiest for Bill is his new teammate, Bobby Bonds. "I think Bill will hit 30 home runs this year. It's tough to play when you're dissatisfied. There were so many things on his mind it made it difficult for him to perform." Melton's problems involved personalities and need not be rekindled. His stature in White Sox annals magnified them. He's their all-time home run king and the only Chicago player ever to win an A.L. home run crown (33 in 1971). In his six full seasons (back injury in 1972) he averaged 24 home runs and 80 runs batted in. When the Sox attack faltered in past seasons, he unjustly shouldered much of the blame. Rivals know differently. "Melton will supply power and drive in runs and that's what the Angels are looking for," said Cleveland manager Frank Robinson. "He's a very exciting offensive ballplayer who is capable of providing the same type of RBI potential as Bonds," said Kansas City ace righthander Steve Busby. Bill figures to serve primarily as designated hitter but could see duty at third base or even first. "I think I'm too young to be used exclusively as a DH. But I'm here to help this club win ball games and I'll be the DH if that's what Dick Williams wants." Happy to no longer be facing Nolan Ryan and Frank Tanana, Bill sees them as prime beneficiaries of a strengthened offense. "We should be able to change their thinking. We will give them more runs to work with. No way are they going to be losing 1-0 games." Melton always had good success against the Angels. Last year he batted .300 (16-80) with two home runs. He has hit 11 in 59 games at the Big A. Bill attended Citrus College in Azusa and is looking forward to friendlier fans in the stands. "I certainly won't miss the booing in Chicago. They even booed my kids at a father-son game last year. That was the last straw."

MICHAEL WILFRED MILEY

INF

Age: 22, turns 23 on March 30. Born: 3-30-53 in Yazoo City, MS. Resides: Metairie, LA. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 180. Bats and throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in June, 1974 free agent draft.

Spring training will be more than a time for physical conditioning for MIKE MILEY. The young shortstop is a very large key to the Angels fortunes in 1976 and the scrutinization will be persistent. Mike demonstrated last year that he has major league tools. He showed occasional power with four home runs including a game-winning, 15th-inning blast against Milwaukee on Aug. 19. And he had a solid winter in Puerto Rico as he batted righthanded exclusively. "Mike is an intelligent person with a strong throwing arm," said Dick Williams. "From his football experience (LSU quarterback) he isn't awed by large crowds. The job is his if he shows us he can handle it." Miley began his pro career on the Double A level due to injuries in the system and made the Texas League All-Star team after a half season's work. He was a switch-hitter until coming to the majors where he fluctuated between switch-hitting and exclusively righthanded. After further experimentation, it appears he will stick to the right side only. Miley's major league debut came on July 6 at Oakland. He collected his first hits, a pair of doubles, on July 9 vs. the Orioles' Ross Grimsley. Mike quarterbacked LSU in the 1974 Orange Bowl against Penn State.

ISIDRO PEDROZA MONGE

LHP

Age: 24, turns 25 on April 11. Born: 4-11-51 in Agua Prieta, Mexico. Resides: El Paso, TX. Ht.: 6-2. Wt.: 192. Bats left and right, throws left. Married Sylvia Chavez, 6-14-74. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1970 free agent draft.

Behind every successful man is a strong woman, even in these days of liberation. It applies to SID MONGE. The promising lefthander points to wife Sylvia as a turning point in his professional career. "I lost my first two starts in 1974 and began to lose my concentration. I also was very depressed because the Angels had left me at Double A the past two years when I thought I would at least go to Salt Lake City. But then I met Sylvia on a blind date. We talked about baseball and she learned how to keep charts on my pitches. I began to concentrate again and wound up with a nine-game winning streak." Sid finally got his shot at Salt Lake last year and used it as a springboard to Anaheim by compiling a 14-9 record and earning a Pacific Coast League All-Star berth. His major league debut was on Sept. 12 at Kansas City in relief. His first start came Sept. 16 at Minnesota and was a heartbreaker. A solo home run in the eighth inning and a three-run, pinch-hit shot by Craig Kusick in the ninth turned a three-hit shutout into a 4-2 defeat. Sid started against the Twins again on Sept. 20 and lost a 3-2 decision with another complete game effort. The frustrations at El Paso seem worthwhile, now that he has a strong shot at the starting rotation. "I'm pitching more with my head now. I've learned you just cannot replace experience. I'm better for it and am just going to take each game as it comes and do my best."

Age: 25. Born: 1-27-51 in Clinton, IL. Resides: Clinton, IL. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 195. Bats and throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 2 selection in January, 1973 free agent draft (secondary phase).

MIKE OVERY will get a long look as a righthanded short man during spring training. All but two of Mike's professional appearances have come out of the bullpen where his whistling fastball is particularly tough in late-inning situations. Overy has struck out 258 batters in only 198 innings. Last year he averaged one strikeout per inning on his way to earning a Texas League All-Star berth. He pitched in eight games in the Arizona Instructional League over the winter, winning his only decision and saving two games while compiling a 2.00 ERA.

LHP

Age: 27, turns 28 on June 2. Born: 6-2-48 in Hammond, IN. Resides: Calumet City, IL. Ht.: 5-11. Wt.: 185. Bats and throws left. Married Kristine Erickson, 11-3-66. Children: Kimberly, Joey. ACQUIRED: Purchased from Tampico club of Mexican League, 9-12-75.

JOE PACTWA is a study in perseverance. After six professional seasons as a struggling outfield candidate he turned to the pitching mound where he spent another four seasons before making it to the major leagues last year. And when he finally did he twice was matched against Minnesota ace Bert Blyleven. In his debut at Bloomington on Sept. 15, Pactwa went seven innings to Blyleven's 10 as neither took a decision. But four days later, Pactwa, with help from Jim Brewer, bested Blyleven, 1-0, on a combined 12-hit shutout. Pactwa hasn't lost his touch with the bat. Serving as a designated hitter between pitching assignments for Tampico of the Mexican League last year, he batted .299 with 13 home runs in only 184 at bats. Joe returned to Mexico during the winter to play for Guaymas.

ORLANDO LEAL RAMIREZ

INF

Age: 25. Born: 2-28-51 in Cartagena, Colombia. Resides: Cartagena, Colombia. Ht.: 5-10. Wt.: 170. Bats and throws right. Married Aura Vasquez. Children: Reynaldo, Antonio. ACQUIRED: Signed as free agent by Carlos Santiago, 3-15-72.

The eyes of an entire nation are on ORLANDO RAMIREZ, the first Colombian to play in the major leagues in more than 40 years. The young shortstop was the toast of Cartagena early in 1975 when he won the regular job. The greatest moment came April 29 when he collected four hits in a 12-1 win at Kansas City. "They probably will have a parade in my honor," said Orlando. "I was hoping to make it 5-for-5. My father once did that in a semipro league and I wanted to emulate him." Miguel Ramirez also was a shortstop and played next to Brooks Robinson in a Colombian league in 1956. Orlando's term in the spotlight faded quickly, however, under a siege of setbacks. The first came May 8 at Oakland when he pulled a hamstring muscle on the basepaths. Before he could recover he contacted chicken pox. Soon thereafter he had to return to Colombia to attend the funeral of a brother killed in an airplane crash. Visa problems delayed his return and he finally was sent to Salt Lake City to play his way back into shape. There he suffered a rib injury before the season could mercifully come to a close.

2 GERALD PETER REMY

Age: 23. Born: 11-8-52 in Fall River, MA. Resides: Westport, MA. Ht.: 5-9. Wt.: 165. Bats left and throws right. Married Philomena Brum, 10-11-74. ACQUIRED: Selected in January, 1971 free agent draft (secondary phase).

JERRY REMY came out of nowhere during spring training of 1975 to steal the second base job away from the incumbent, Denny Doyle. Manager Dick Williams foresees no such occurrence in 1976. "If anybody comes along to beat out Remy we would have a superstar that nobody ever heard of." Most observers agree were it not for the fairy tale seasons of Fred Lynn and Jim Rice in Boston, Remy would have been Rookie of the Year. He was selected the second baseman on the Topps Major League All-Rookie team. Remy expresses only partial surprise at his success after jumping from Double A ball into the majors. "Yes, things went better than I had expected. But I'm not so much surprised as I am pleased. I've always felt I could play this game." The Angels always have been blessed with talented pivotmen and Remy may be the best yet. Bobby Knoop, four times the Angels' MVP, batted only .216 his rookie season and stole 31 fewer bases. Coach Jimmie Reese managed Knoop in the minors and makes this comparison: "Both are outstanding players. Bobby was better at making the double play than Remy is now, but Jerry learns fast. And, obviously, Remy has better speed and is a better hitter." Another veteran keystone observer is former great Johnny Pesky, currently a Boston coach. "I like Remy. I see a lot of me in him." Jerry's defensive brilliance shone most brightly June 6, the night Nolan Ryan sought consecutive no-hitters. Remy made a play in the fifth inning on Darrell Porter which preserved the no-hit bid and left eyewitnesses staring in disbelief. Equally impressive was Jerry's consistency. Seldom did he bobble a ground ball as most of his infrequent errors came on errant double play relays when he refused to give in to the base runner. "He's a real competitor," says Williams. "He's extremely dedicated and has great desire." Jerry credits the late scout and coach Kenny Myers and his 1973 season as keys to his rapid success. "I had heard the Angels were going to release me after my first spring training but Kenny told them to keep me because of my speed. He said he could teach me how to play. I owe him an awful lot and only wish he could have been here to see me make it." Jerry's Midwest League batting championship in 1973 was the clincher. "I think that season put me in the Angels book. A couple of times they had sent me to lower classifications than I felt I deserved but each time I had a good year and strengthened my confidence." Jerry's early fame in 1975 came from his facial resemblance to Jim "Catfish" Hunter. "I had been told that before. I just hope some day I'll have a bank account that looks like his."

ELISEO C. RODRIGUEZ

Age: 29, turns 30 on May 24. Born: 5-24-46 in Fajardo, PR. Resides: Catano, PR. Ht.: 5-11. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws right. Married Isabel Reyes, 1-10-74. ACQUIRED: From Milwaukee Brewers with Joe Lahoud, Skip Lockwood, Ollie Brown and Gary Ryerson in exchange for Clyde Wright, Ken Berry, Steve Barber and Art Kusnyer, 10-22-73.

ELLIE RODRIGUEZ caught more games (90) than the rest of the Angels injury-riddled catching staff combined in 1975 even though he, too, spent time on the disabled list. A sprained ankle suffered on May 3 on a pickoff play at second base in Texas kept him out of action until June 1, when he was reinstated only hours before catching Nolan Ryan's fourth no-hitter. "The no-hitter was my biggest thrill in baseball, without a doubt. It was better than going 4-for-4 and hitting a home run. I just want to catch his fifth one." Rodriguez also has shared in Ryan's strikeout glory. Ellie was behind the plate June 14, 1974 when Ryan struck out 19 in 13 innings and Barry Raziano added No. 20 in his two innings which, added to a foul fly, gave Rodriguez an American League record 21 putouts for an extra-inning game. Rodriguez also tied the A.L. mark (19) for a nine-inning game when he caught Ryan's 19 strikeouts on Aug. 12, 1974. Rodriguez' favorite park last year was Metropolitan Stadium in Minnesota where he hit two home runs. The second was a game-winner, coming in the 10th inning of a 4-3 win on July 1. Rodriguez was selected for the A.L. All-Star squads of 1969 and 1972 but did not participate. During the winter he played for Bayamon in the Puerto Rican League.

47 GARY DOUGLAS ROSS RHP

Age: 28, turns 29 on Sept. 16. Born: 9-16-47 in McKeesport, PA. Resides: Cardiff, CA. Ht.: 6-0. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws right. Married Linda Orman, 11-16-67. Children: Gary Jr., Corey. ACQUIRED: From San Diego Padres' Hawaii club in exchange for Bob Valentini and player to be named later (Rudy Meoli), 9-17-75.

"If you can't beat 'em, join 'em" was part of the philosophy behind the Angels' acquisition of GARY ROSS, a prime candidate for the starting rotation in 1976. Pitching for Hawaii in the Pacific Coast League, Ross beat the Angels' Salt Lake City club three times in impressive fashion. "He was the toughest pitcher we faced all year," said Norm Sherry, who managed Salt Lake last year. Ross' first win came May 19 in one of the most lopsided games in history. He pitched a no-hit, 19-0 win in a game cut to five innings by rain. The next encounter was July 19 and Ross got another shutout, a six-hitter, in beating Sid Monge, 5-0. In the championship playoffs he beat Gary Wheelock 3-2 in the opener and later pitched three-run ball through nine innings for no decision in a game Hawaii won in the 10th. Ross joined the Angels in September and started the final game of the year. He found himself on the other end of no-hit antics, losing to the combined efforts of Vida Blue, Glenn Abbott, Paul Lindblad and Rollie Fingers, 5-0. Ross originally was signed by the Chicago Cubs and won his first game for them on June 24, 1968. Early in 1969 he was traded to San Diego where he became a fine relief pitcher, establishing a club record for appearances (219). Ross attended Grand View Junior College in Des Moines, Iowa.

Age: 29. Born: 1-31-47 in Refugio, TX. Resides: Alvin, TX. Ht.: 6-2. Wt.: 195. Bats and throws right. Married Ruth Holdorff, 6-26-67. Children: Reid, Reese. ACQUIRED: From New York Mets with Lee Stanton, Don Rose and Francisco Estrada in exchange for Jim Fregosi, 12-10-71.

The 1975 season was bitterly frustrating for NOLAN RYAN, reminiscent of his formative days with the New York Mets. The brilliance Anaheim fans had come to expect was interrupted frequently by injuries. The consistency Nolan had so steadfastly struggled to attain was lost. The final blow came around Labor Day when the decision was made to operate on his right elbow. Four bone chips were removed on Sept. 23 and the operation was termed a success but it will take the 1976 season for an accurate assessment. "I won't quit unless my arm falls off. I've learned to pitch in pain." Nolan traces his troubles to a leg injury in spring training which hindered his conditioning program. Subsequently, he suffered a strained tendon in his right tricep, a groin pull, a sore shoulder which required his first cortisone shot and more. Remarkably, he managed to get off to the best start of his career, which only added to the frustration. In early June he was 10-3 with five shutouts climaxed by his fourth no-hitter on June 1 and a two-hitter on June 6. But "The Express" wasn't there and he knew it and the losses began to mount. "I didn't overpower anyone or hit spots consistently all year, even in the no-hitter. If I had had to get by earlier in my career with the kind of fastball I had last year, I never would have made it. Fortunately, I've developed somewhat as a pitcher." Ryan had only four games in which he struck out 10 or more (record 23 in 1973) and early season headlines like "Batters Fear For Life When Facing Ryan" were replaced by "Batters Digging in on Ryan." Despite his ailments, Ryan still managed to wield the magic which has made him baseball's most exciting pitcher. Foremost was the no-hitter, a nerve-tingling 1-0 win over Baltimore which tied him with Sandy Koufax for the major league record. The final out was a strike out of Bobby Grich looking at a change up. Then came the pressurized encore—trying again to emulate Johnny VanderMeer. In 1973, Ryan had come within six outs of consecutive no-hitters and this time he was 10 outs shy. Henry Aaron was the villain, with a sixth-inning single. "The pressure was the worst of my career. I tried to be cooperative and answer all the calls but the attention made the week difficult. I didn't really expect to do it but there was a big crowd there to see me pitch another no-hitter so I tried." Nolan's best strikeout performance came Aug. 3 at Texas when he fanned six in a row and had nine through five innings. But then came a groin injury and removal from the game. Nolan's season was mirrored by his TV acting debut. He starred in the daytime serial "Ryan's Hope," playing, all too appropriately, himself with an injury.

RALPH ROBERT SCOTT

LHP

Age: 28, turns 29 on July 25. Born: 7-25-47 in Weimar, W. Germany. Resides: Binghamton, NY. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 175. Bats and throws left. Married Linda Brown, 9-7-68. Children: Kevin. ACQUIRED: Purchased from Baltimore Orioles' Rochester club, 10-3-74.

MICKEY SCOTT developed into an outstanding relief pitcher for the Angels last year in his first full major-league season. Not coincidentally, Mickey's turning point seemed to come in mid-July or about the time the Angels acquired Jim Brewer. Scott obviously absorbed some of Brewer's knowledge of the fine art of living out of the bullpen and enjoyed being able to share the heavy load he had been carrying as the only lefthanded reliever. "Mickey did a fine job for us, particularly in the second half," said Dick Williams. "I think he finally realized he has the ability to pitch up here." In his last 23 appearances, Scott won three of four decisions and recorded a 2.06 ERA. Mickey came to the Angels with impressive minor league credentials including a 55-25 career record. He was 8-2 with a league-leading 17 saves and 0.99 ERA for Rochester in 1974 and in 1971 he was 9-1 with nine saves. Mickey gained some measure of "fame" last year as the Angels' bubble-gum blowing champion in a national contest.

16 BILLY EDWARD SMITH

INF

Age: 22, turns 23 on July 14. Born: 7-14-53 in Hodge, LA. Resides: San Antonio, TX. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 185. Bats left and right, throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 3 selection in June, 1971 free agent draft.

Versatility earned BILLY SMITH a spot on the major league roster last year and should make him a strong candidate for a reserve role again in 1976. The switch-hitting Texan played all four infield positions for Dick Williams in 1975 and held down the regular shortstop's job most of May and June after Orlando Ramirez was injured. He was returned to Salt Lake City for the second half of the season and finished strong, batting .296. Smith became a switch-hitter to spite his father, a legendary softball star in Texas. "I got mad at him when I was in Little League and told him I wasn't going to try to emulate him anymore. Since we were both lefthanded batters, I made myself bat righthanded. I still feel better lefthanded but being able to switch has helped my career."

LEROY BOBBY STANTON

Age: 29, turns 30 on Apr. 10. Born: 4-10-46 in Latta, S.C. Resides: Dillon, S.C. Ht.: 6-1. Wt.: 198. Bats and throws right. Married: Thelma McKenzie, 6-13-69. Children: Shauna, Denise. ACQUIRED: From New York Mets with Nolan Ryan, Don Rose and Francisco Estrada for Jim Fregosi, 12-10-71.

Prior to baseball's winter meetings, LEE STANTON was asked what it would mean to him should the Angels be able to acquire a righthanded power hitter. "It will give me a little more incentive, to go out there with somebody else who can sting the ball. And it helps you mentally at the plate." When the news arrived that the Angels had acquired TWO sluggers in Bobby Bonds and Bill Melton, Lee just flashed a big smile and started packing his bags for Holtville. Last year he set career highs and led the club with 14 home runs and 82 runs batted in. A similar year seems a certainty now that he doesn't have to shoulder the power responsibility alone. "I know what I can do now. I've become a smarter ballplayer the last couple of years by working on all the things that make you a winner. Dick Williams really helped me a lot last year." Two statistics stand out. Foremost was Lee's reduction in strikeouts to 84, a career low. "That's the single biggest thing to help his game," said general manager Harry Dalton. And lost in the shuffle of rabbits in 1975 was Lee's RBI to at bat ratio. At 1 for every 5.37, Lee was better than all but two of the top 12 RBI men in the American League. The key was Lee's ability to cash in on bases-loaded opportunities. Two home runs, a triple and three doubles produced 19 runs with only six swings. The two grand slams came June 11 and 15 to spark a club record 29 RBI for the month. "Dick kept preaching 'put the bat on the ball more' and as a result, I drove in more runs from third than ever before as well as cut down on my strikeouts." Stanton also enjoyed his finest season on the basepaths, stealing a career-high 18 bases with the second best percentage (.750) on the club. "I've always considered myself a decent runner and I can steal bases if necessary." Winter league play in Venezuela following the 1973 season fostered Lee's development into the consistent offensive threat he now presents. He batted .323 and maintained that momentum into spring training where he batted .352. He continued to roll into the 1974 season, batting .390 until a Ross Grimsley fastball fractured his hand. He missed five weeks and never fully regained that form. Lee skipped winter ball that year and had an unproductive spring. He couldn't crack the 1975 lineup until May but when he did he became a fixture. Lee begins the 1976 season only 72 RBI shy of the No. 2 spot on the Angels' all-time list and he likely will keep himself abreast of his ranking. He spent the past winter taking accounting courses.

FRANK DARYL TANANA

LHP

Age: 22, turns 23 on July 3. Born: 7-3-53 in Detroit, MI. Resides: Newport Beach, CA. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 195. Bats and throws left. Single. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 1 selection in June, 1971 free agent draft.

What is it about lefthanders? Whatever the measuring stick, they stand out from the crowd and FRANK TANANA is no exception. He's been compared to the likes of Whitey Ford and Bo Belinsky and depicted as everything from a cocky youngster to a polished craftsman on the mound. Everyone agrees, however, that he ranks among the top pitchers in the game. Despite nagging leg injuries and later a broken finger, he led the majors last year in strikeouts with 269 and finished fourth in balloting for the A.L. Cy Young Award. He also became the first A.L. southpaw to strike out 17 in a game. "My ambition is to become the best pitcher in baseball," says Frank, who confidently adds, "I think I'm one of the best around now." But he's realistic enough to know it all could end in an instant. "The mound is the most dangerous spot in baseball. The line drive which broke my finger (July 28) could have been on my pitching hand. Really, good health is the only goal worth talking about. Without it, there's nothing. I know, I had a bad back when I signed and then I tore up my shoulder so my first year was a complete waste . . . Now I wake up every morning with a big smile on my face. This is something I've always wanted, something I've always worked for and here it is. It's all a dream come true." The praise has been noteworthy: "He's the toughest lefthander in the league for me"—Bill Freehan; "He can throw hard, but his curve puts you on the dirt while the umpire is calling the third strike"—Carlton Fisk; "Tanana shows me a lot of guts"—Reggie Jackson; "It took me five years before I knew how to pitch as well as he does"—Ken Holtzman; "You have to go back to the time Whitey Ford broke in to find a pitcher of his caliber"—Dick Williams; "Barring injury, he could be a 20-game winner for the next ten years. That's something I can't say"—Nolan Ryan. Tanana's emergence as a winning pitcher can be traced to Williams' arrival as manager in mid-1974. Tanana, 4-13 at the time, was dispatched to the bullpen and balked. "Dick said he could find a place for me in the starting rotation—in Salt Lake City." Tanana won twice in relief and has been a fixture in the rotation ever since. "Control has given me the big edge. When you know where you want to throw the ball and can get it there, you've mastered the game. Hitting is the ability to capitalize on a pitcher's mistake. Having good control neutralizes that ability." Tanana has joined Ryan in preparing fans for no-hit bids and strike-out records each time he goes to the mound. He and Don Kirkwood combined on a one-hitter against Oakland (Apr. 26). When he fanned 17 Rangers (June 21) he got them all in the first eight innings. He also fanned 15 Twins (June 30) and 14 A's (Sept. 2). Still, he occasionally is chided for overconfidence and statements such as "my idol as a kid was myself" and "I went to an all-boys' high school and now I'm making up for it." He doesn't let the barbs bother him. "I've been this way all my life. My teammates say it's confidence. The opponents call it cockiness. They have different connotations but as far as I'm concerned, they're interchangeable."

3 ROSENDO TORRES, JR. OF Age: 27, turns 28 on Sept. 30. Born: 9-30-48 in Aquadilla, PR. Resides: Jamaica, NY. Ht.: 5-10. Wt.: 180. Bats left and right, throws right. Married Ada Echevarria, 4-21-65. Children: Yvette Marie, Rosendo III. ACQUIRED: From Cleveland Indians with Charlie Hudson in exchange for Bill Gilbreth, 12-14-74.

RUSTY TORRES enjoyed his best professional season since 1971 for Salt Lake City last year after beginning the year on the disabled list with a fractured thumb. Torres developed into one of the Gulls' most consistent performers and posted the best batting average (.306) of his career. He will get a serious look in centerfield for the Angels in 1976. Torres, a switch-hitter, is a product of the New York sandlots. The Yankees signed him as a free agent in 1967 and called him up in 1971 after he was selected the International League's "Rookie of the Year." The previous year, 1970, he was selected "Rookie of the Year" in the Puerto Rican League after missing most of his Manchester season with torn knee ligaments and a fractured wrist. Traded to Cleveland with John Ellis, Jerry Kenney and Charlie Spikes for Graig Nettles and Jerry Moses, Torres enjoyed his best major league season in 1973 with the Indians. This past winter he played for Bayamon in Puerto Rico.

Age: 23, turns 24 on Sept. 27. Born: 9-27-52 in Canon City, CO. Resides: Wilmington, NC. Ht.: 6-4. Wt.: 200. Bats left and throws right. Married Diana Luth, 10-25-75. ACQUIRED: Angels' No. 2 selection in January, 1974 free agent draft.

One of the most highly rated arms in the Angels' farm system belongs to PAT CRISTELLI. The big righthander is rated No. 1 by some Angels personnel and could find himself in the major leagues before 1976 is history. Cristelli tuned up for spring training with a brief but impressive stint in the Arizona Instructional League. He was 3-0 in six games with a 2.13 ERA before leaving to get married. Cristelli was a member of the Texas League All-Star team last year. He attended Puget Sound University and is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A "very excited" TOM DONOHUE will be making his first appearance at a major league spring training camp for the Angels in 1976. Donohue enjoyed his best season at the plate last year with combined totals of 13 home runs and 65 runs batted in with a .271 batting average at Salinas and El Paso. "I really can't expect to make the club this year but the experience is certain to be a big boost for me. And, you never know what might happen." Tom is further encouraged by the progress of Bob Allietta, who was invited to camp last year as a non-roster player and found himself in the major leagues by mid-season. Donohue has attended Idaho State University, where he played freshman football before signing with the Angels, and Nassau Community College.

RHP

Age: 22. Born: 11-2-53 in Bloomsburg, PA. Resides: Bloomsburg, PA. Ht.: 6-5. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1975 free agent draft.

An outstanding performance in the Arizona Instructional League has thrust PAUL HARTZELL into the Angels' major league camp. Hartzell compiled an 8-1 record with a 2.55 ERA in 74 innings while making seven starts in 21 appearances. His victory total tied for the league lead. "My basic intent is going to Arizona was to use it as an advancement. Being from the east where we don't get as much playing time or exposure, I thought I had some catching up to do." Hartzell arrived late at Quad Cities last year after signing upon graduation from Lehigh University (Bethlehem, PA) where he earned a BS degree in mechanical engineering. During the winter he helped Bloomsburg State College coach Clark Bohler with the baseball team and a class entitled "Baseball Coaching and Philosophy." He also served as a color commentator on Bloomsburg State basketball games for WHLM radio.

CHARLES HUDSON

LHP

Age: 26, turns 27 on Aug. 18. Born: 8-18-49 in Ada, OK. Resides: Coalgate, OK. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 190. Bats and throws left. Married Janice Parks, 9-26-75. ACQUIRED: From Cleveland Indians with Rusty Torres for pitcher Bill Gilbreth, 12-4-74.

CHARLIE HUDSON enjoyed his best season since 1968 for Salt Lake City last year. The lanky knuckleballer posted a 13-7 record, the third largest number of wins in the Angels farm system. Hudson had a brief tour of duty with the Angels in July. He started a game at Minnesota on July 2 (losing 9-4 to Bert Blyleven) and made two relief appearances before being returned to Salt Lake in mid-month. Hudson began throwing the knuckleball about five years ago. "I had experimented with it for quite awhile and began using it as a change of pace. Gradually, I went to it more and more. Barney Schultz at St. Louis gave me more help than anyone else with it." Hudson was selected to the Pacific Coast League All-Star team last year. He has attended East Central State College in Ada, OK.

Always an outstanding defensive catcher, MIKE MARTINSON is beginning to swing the bat in a fashion which excites Angels personnel. Mike batted .271 in the Arizona Instructional League after hitting .279, his career best, at Quad Cities in completing the 1975 season. Martinson is a product of coach John Herbold's successful program at Lakewood High School, where he was converted to catcher in his senior year. Mike still is a growing youngster. He grew about an inch and added 15 pounds with the aid of winter weightlifting since the close of the 1975 season. He also attended Cal State University at Dominguez Hills. "We think Mike already has major league ability behind the plate," said Scouting Director Walter Shannon.

BALOR LILBON MOORE

LHP

Age: 25. Born: 1-25-51 in Smithville, TX. Resides: Pasadena, TX. Ht.: 6-2. Wt.: 195. Bats and throws left. Married Paula Aucoin, 2-1-74. ACQUIRED: Purchased from Montreal's Memphis club, 6-16-75.

"A lefthanded Nolan Ryan" is the description Don Drysdale used for BALOR MOORE when the Angels acquired him last year for their Salinas roster. Don was talking about Balor's potential but even today there are great similarities. Both are from small towns in Texas. Both enjoy hunting and cattle ranching. And both are coming off elbow surgery. Bone chips were removed and a nerve was rechanneled on Aug. 29 by Dr. Frank Jobe in an operation similar to those performed on Andy Hassler and Dick Lange. "I started playing catch in November and by the first of the year I was throwing as hard as I was when I joined the Angels. I'd like to think I will throw still harder as I get stronger. Dr. Jobe told me if Nolan's arm comes out as well as mine, then he had a good year." Moore was the original free agent draft pick of the Expos in 1969 and was rushed into the majors a year later. In 1972 he was 9-9 and averaged 9.79 strikeouts per game. Twice he fanned 13 (July 23 vs. San Diego and Aug. 23 vs. Cincinnati). He strung 24 consecutive scoreless innings including back-to-back shutouts of New York (Sept. 7) and St. Louis (Sept. 11). On Nov. 25, 1973, he pitched the first nine-inning perfect game in Puerto Rican League history.

On June 15 he captured his first victory, pitching two flawless innings in a 15-inning, 4-3 win vs. Boston. At Salt Lake City the past two years Raziano has been outstanding. His combined record is 9-1 with 16 saves and a 2.34 ERA in 58 games.

JOHN C. VERHOEVEN

RHP

Age: 22, turns 23 on July 3. Born: 7-3-53 in Long Beach, CA. Resides: Norwalk, CA. Ht.: 6-5. Wt.: 200. Bats and throws right. Married Katherine Randolph, 10-4-75. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1974 free agent draft.

JOHN VERHOEVEN is chairman of the Don Kirkwood Booster Club. Kirkwood showed the Angels that a youngster can step right into bullpen chores and do a commendable job and Verhoeven feels he is of similar caliber. Also, if Kirkwood can make the expected successful transition to the starting rotation, there will be another bullpen vacancy available for Verhoeven to claim. Verhoeven has made 76 professional appearances, all but one in relief, and has lost only once. He is only two years removed from La Verne College, where he earned a BA degree in physical education. He originally attended Westmont College. During the winter Verhoeven helped coach the junior varsity basketball squad at Valley Christian High School in Artesia.

GARY RICHARD WHELOCK

RHP

Age: 24. Born: 11-29-51 in Bakersfield, CA. Resides: Yorba Linda, CA. Ht.: 6-3. Wt.: 205. Bats and throws right. Single. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1974 free agent draft.

GARY WHELOCK was one of those young Angels scanning the newspapers for winter trade activity. When the departures of Bill Singer and Ed Figueroa were announced, he couldn't suppress a smile. "Things certainly look better for me now than they did at the end of last year. I've always preferred the starting rotation but I'd be happy to make the major leagues as a reliever." Wheelock was used exclusively as a reliever in his first season and a half of professional ball but late last year at Salt Lake City he was pressed into the rotation. He performed brilliantly, possibly changing his future. Wheelock earned a BA degree in social sciences at U.C. Irvine. He pitched a five-hitter to beat University of New Orleans in the 1974 NCAA College Division championship game for the Anteaters and received All-American honors. When not pitching, he batted .318 with eight home runs and 37 runs batted in as a designated hitter. Gary previously attended Fullerton College. During the winter he played for Obregon in Mexico.

60 GENE LAMAR WRIGHT LHP

Age: 23. Born: 12-2-52 in Rome, GA. Resides: Rome, GA. Ht.: 5-11. Wt.: 180. Bats and throws left. Married Robin Baldwin, 6-13-71. Children: Jenny. ACQUIRED: Selected in June, 1974 free agent draft.

LAMAR WRIGHT has made rapid strides through the Angels organization in less than two full seasons. He was signed upon graduation in June of 1974 from Shorter College (Rome, GA) and assigned to the rookie league at Idaho Falls. After five games he was advanced to Class A at Quad Cities. Last year he started at Salinas but quickly earned a promotion to Double A and El Paso. His total of 43 appearances was third best in the farm system. At Shorter College he was 45-8 with a 1.38 ERA for his career. He earned a BS degree in economics. During the winter he played for Obregon in Mexico.

RULES AND REGULATIONS — 1976

TRADING REGULATIONS:

Within Own League—No waivers necessary from midnight last day of season to midnight, June 15. Waivers are necessary from midnight, June 15 to last day of season (midnight).

Inter-League—No waivers necessary during inter-league trading period, five days after close of World Series until midnight the night before the final day of the winter meetings (Friday). League waivers (assignor's league) are necessary from midnight night before the final day of winter meetings to midnight June 15. Waivers also necessary (assignor's league) from midnight last day of season to midnight fifth day after World Series. Major league waivers are necessary from midnight June 15 to midnight, last day of season.

BATTING AND PITCHING (ERA) CHAMPION QUALIFICATIONS: 502 or more plate appearances. 162 or more innings pitched.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS: A player may not have spent more than 45 days on a major league roster between Opening Day and September 1 AND may not have exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched at major league level to qualify as a Rookie.

DETERMINING MAGIC NUMBER: To figure "Magic Number" in pennant race, compute the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAVE RULE (10:20): Credit a pitcher with a save when he is the finishing but not the winning pitcher, and when he qualifies under ONE of the following conditions—(1) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or (2) he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base or at bat, or on deck; or (3) he pitches effectively for at least three innings regardless of his team's lead.

MINOR LEAGUE REVIEW — 1975

California's minor league system enjoyed another banner year in 1975. Angels affiliates at Salt Lake City (Pacific Coast League-Eastern Division) and Quad Cities (Midwest League) won pennants while the Idaho Falls Angels just missed the Pioneer League title by one-half game. Individually, infielder Butch Alberts hit .342 to earn the Texas League batting crown while Idaho Falls infielder Richard Brewster compiled a .347 average to win similar honors in the Pioneer League. Teammate Carlos Perez posted the lowest ERA in the league at 1.89. The righthander won nine of 12 decisions. In 1974 the Angels were voted the TOPPS award as the outstanding minor league organization in baseball.

MINOR LEAGUE AWARDS

The Dick Wantz Memorial Trophy is given annually to the player who shows the most dedication and improvement during minor league spring training. Wantz, a right-handed pitcher for the Angels in 1965, died suddenly of a brain tumor after pitching one inning in a major league game. Previous award winners are:

1966 — Jim Spencer (1b)	1971 — Junior Riggins (of)
1967 — Tom Burgmeier (lhp)	1972 — Billy Smith (ss)
1968 — Gordon Avery (2b)	1973 — Frank Tanana (lhp)
1969 — Steve Schneider (2b)	1974 — Marty Friedman (of)
1970 — Joe Henderson (rhp)	1975 — Dave Machemer (inf)

The Kenny Myers Memorial Award is given each year to the minor league player judged best in the Angels organization. Myers, who joined the Angels in 1969 as a scout and minor league hitting instructor, died in July, 1972. Past winners:

1972 — Doug Howard (inf)	1974 — Bruce Bochte (of-1b)
1973 — Frank Tanana (lhp)	1975 — Dave Collins (of)

GLOSSARY OF SPORTS INJURIES COMMON IN BASEBALL

Compiled by Frank W. Jobe, M.D.

President, National Athletic Health Institute Orthopedic Consultant to California Angels and Los Angeles Dodgers

EDITORS NOTE: With an increasing amount of injuries playing an integral part in sports, members of the media are not expected to have a working knowledge of medical terms to supplement their respective vast repertoire of sports terminology. We trust this glossary will prove helpful to you.

MEDICAL TERMS

The following are common terms used in assessing athletic injuries:

abrasion — a rubbing or scraping off of the skin or mucous membrane due to friction, causing local pain, stiffness and tenderness. Also termed cinderburn, floor burn, grass burn, scrape, slide burn, strawberry.

abscess — an infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration. It is accompanied by redness, tenderness and swelling.

arthritis — inflammation of a joint

a. osteoarthritis-deterioration and hypertrophy of the bone and cartilage.

b. rheumatoid arthritis-inflammation of the tissue surrounding the joints and deterioration of the articular surfaces of the joints; atrophy of the bone.

c. traumatic arthritis-deterioration of articular surfaces of the joints due to a wound or injury; may sometimes include the tissue surrounding the joint.

atrophy — a wasting away of a tissue, cell, or organ due to a failure or defect in providing nutrients to that area.

bursitis — inflammation (pain, heat, redness) of the sac or sac-like cavity which is filled with fluid and situated in places in the tissues where friction would otherwise result.

callus — a callosity; a thickening of the skin resulting from friction, pressure or other irritation.

cartilage — the elastic substance attached to articular bone surface and forming certain parts of the skeleton.

a. meniscus — the crescent-shaped elastic substance located between the femoral condyle and tibial plateau, acting as a cushion for the articular surface of the knee joint.

Charleyhorse — a bruise to the quadriceps resulting from a direct blow to the front of the thigh, characterized by intramuscular bleeding. THIS IS ALL A CHARLEYHORSE CAN BE.

contusion — a bruise caused by direct blow; tissue damage, local pain, tenderness and stiffness.

embolism — the sudden blocking of an artery or vein by a clot or obstruction which has been brought into its place by the current of the blood.

fracture — the breaking of a part, especially a bone.

a. avulsion fracture-fragment of bone rips off where it attaches to tendon, ligament or muscle.

b. closed fracture-fracture where there is no wound extending from the surface to the site of the bony injury.

c. compound fracture- a fracture where part of the bone protrudes from the surface of the skin.

d. comminuted fracture-fracture where there are three or more pieces.

e. greenstick fracture-incomplete fracture of a long bone which curves around the outside, and bends along the inside. Longitudinal in either direction.

f. spiral fracture-fracture with spiral fracture line occurring in long bones from a twisting injury.

g. fatigue fracture-fracture occurring after prolonged repetitive activity against firm resistance.

genu valgum (knock knee) — deformity where the knees are abnormally close together, and space between the ankles increased. May be a factor in dislocation of the kneecap, or sprain of a ligament.

heat fatigue — deterioration in performance due to exposure to heat, humidity, and resulting in a relative state of dehydration and salt depletion.

hematoma — pooling of the blood that has escaped from the vessels into the tissues of organs.

hernia — a protrusion of a loop of an organ or tissue through an abnormal opening.

a. inguinal hernia — a herniated area in the groin (the groin is defined as the lowest part of the abdominal wall, near its junction with the thigh).

b. muscle hernia — protrusion of the muscle tissue through the protective muscle covering; often caused by excessive physical activity.

hypertrophy — an abnormal overgrowth or enlargement of an organ due to the increase in size of its constituent cells.

muscle cramp — painful involuntary contraction of skeletal muscle group, often caused by salt depletion, fatigue, and reaction to injury. A CHARLEYHORSE IS NOT A CRAMP.

neuritis – an inflamed nerve due to some infection or disorder. If chronic, may result in atrophy of muscle.

plantar wart – virus infection, often confused with a callus; the wart will occur on any area of the bottom of the foot, whereas the callus will only occur on pressure points. May be local pain upon walking.

rotator cuff – a group of four muscles that rotate the arm both inward and outward (when throwing a baseball, the arm is first externally rotated and then internally rotated with delivery).

separation – (in reference to the shoulder) a 2nd degree sprain of the acromioclavicular joint.

shin splints – (Anterior Tibial Compartment Syndrome; Anterior Tibial Tendon Tenosynovitis) excessive or repeated use of leg and involved structures on hard surfaces causes musculo-tendinous inflammations. Can cause severe disability if not treated: swelling, bleeding and scarring of muscle tissue may occur in very extreme cases.

spondylolisthesis – the moving forward of one vertebra over another.

sprain – trauma to a ligament

- 1st degree-mild sprain; direct or indirect trauma to joint, with pain and mild disability; minor tearing of ligament fibers.
- 2nd degree-same as above, with pain and moderate disability; moderate loss of function with a partial tear of the ligament.
- 3rd degree-severe pain and disability; loss of function with abnormal motion and possible deformity; tenderness and swelling with persistent instability and traumatic arthritis; complete tear of ligament.

strain – trauma to tendon or muscle

- 1st degree-mild strain; slightly pulled muscle; caused by excessive use or stretch; mild function loss.
- 2nd degree-moderately pulled muscle; from violent contraction or forcible stretch; moderate disability; stretching and tearing of fibers without complete disruption.
- 3rd degree-severely pulled muscle; loss of muscle function; defect easily felt. May see tearing away of bone accompanying tendon; muscle or tendon tear which separates muscle from muscle, muscle from tendon, or a piece of bone may accompany a separation of tendon from bone.

subluxation – an incomplete or partial dislocation.

tendinitis – deterioration of the tendon, or tendon-muscle attachments, from repeated minor trauma.

tenosynovitis – probable cause is direct blow or repeated trauma; unaccustomed forcible use of tendon's muscle; inflammation between tendon and surrounding tissues with loss of smooth gliding action.

thrombophlebitis – inflammation of the vein wall, which has preceded the formation of a clot.

trauma – a wound or injury.

SOME POSSIBLE BASEBALL INJURIES

FOOT AND ANKLE

Achilles Tendon strain
Achilles Tendon tenosynovitis
Achillobursitis
Ankle fracture (fracture of the malleolus)
Ankle Dislocation
Ankle sprain; ligaments most involved:
 medial collateral,
 lateral collateral,
 tibiofibular ligaments

Ankle subluxation
Athlete's Foot
Fracture of the tarsals, metatarsals, phalanges
Tarsalmetatarsal Dislocation
Tarsalmetatarsal Subluxation
Tenosynovitis of the toe
Interphalangeal Dislocation
Calluses

LEG

Shin Splints – Anterior Tibial Compartment Syndrome – severe condition where there is loss of the extensor muscles in the shin and toes, causing foot drop. Disability may result due to serious scarring of the tissue.
– Anterior Tibial Tendon Tenosynovitis – a condition where the athlete runs with his heel rotating inward, which aggravates the tendon insertion. May be pain or tenderness.

KNEE

Knee Dislocation
Knee Sprain
Subluxation of the kneecap
Knee Strain
patellar tendon strain tubercle avulsion

kneecap dislocation fracture of the kneecap tear or rupture of the meniscus strain of the quadriceps infrapatellar bursitis joint loose bodies

THIGH

Charleyhorse
strained hamstrings strained quadriceps

femur fracture
femur fatigue fracture
Gracilis strain

Hip Dislocation	Hip strain
Hip Pointer-direct blow to the top of hip	fracture of the acetabulum
Hip sprain	Snapping Hip-turning inward of the hip causes clicking noise

lumbosacral sprain	lumbar spondylolithesis
lumbosacral strain	lumbar spondylosis

HAND AND WRIST

Baseball Finger—also termed Mallet Finger or Hammer Finger; results from a direct blow to the tip of the finger; hyperextension of middle joint (finger bends backward).

sprained finger

Trigger Finger – tendon inflames in index finger, making it impossible to bend. A nodule forms, which prevents the tendon from sliding as in bending the finger.

Dislocation – a. interphalangeal; b. carpometacarpal; c. carpal

Bennett's Fracture – blow on the back of a clenched thumb; may cause fracture or dislocation of the end of the metacarpal. There is swelling and tenderness, and immobility of the joint.

Barton Fracture – a fall onto an outstretched hand causes wrist deformity and swelling; may fracture the end of the radius.

Buttonhole Deformity – injury to the back of the middle joint of the finger; forcible flexion; unable to extend, with tenderness and swelling.

sprain of the wrist

bone bruise (Catcher's Finger) – usually comes from holding the index finger outside of the mitt.

nail avulsion (may occur on toes too); forcible bending back or tearing of nail.

FOREARM (and ELBOW joint) fracture of the ulna

fracture of the radius

radioulnar dislocation – twisting forcibly outward on the wrist radioulnar fracture – could be from fall onto outstretched hand ulna fracture, olecranon – fracture of the elbow; as when one falls on the elbow dislocation of the elbow strain of the rotator cuff; 1st, 2nd and 3rd degree ulnar nerve dislocation

joint loose bodies

ARM AND SHOULDER

Bicipital Tenosynovitis – injury to the front of the shoulder; irritation of the tendon located there, as well as strain on the biceps brachii muscle and tendon. Usually from repetitive hard throwing.

Subacromial Bursitis – Bursitis on the top area of the shoulder

Acromioclavicular sprain, 3rd degree (shoulder dislocation)

Acromioclavicular sprain, 2nd degree (shoulder separation) strain

joint loose bodies

Glenohumeral Dislocation

osteochondritis dissecans of the elbow

Glenohumeral Subluxation

fracture of the collar bone

Fracture of the humerus fracture of the breast bone

HEAD AND NECK

cerebral concussion, 1st, 2nd and 3rd degree

cervical spine sprain

cervical disc rupture

"shiner" – pooling of blood in the tissues around the eye areas, usually from injury nose contusion or fracture fracture of the jaw

UNACCEPTABLE TERMS

The following terms are representative of commonly used colloquialisms causing confusion and impreciseness in sports medicine. These terms should be avoided, as they are nonspecific and subject to wide interpretation. The writer is encouraged to substitute preferred terminology.

FOUL LINES—333 feet

BULLPENS—362 feet

LEFT AND RIGHT FIELDS—370 feet

POWER ALLEYS—386 feet

CENTER FIELD—404 feet

Anaheim Stadium was built with "Convenience, Comfort and Courtesy" in mind. Narrow foul territory areas and quickly rising decks keep spectators on top of the action. Gradually inclined ramps and escalators, wide aisles and seats and helpful ushers make entrance and egress as uncomplicated as possible.

Three surrounding freeways, 26 entrance lanes from three streets and 28 exit lanes and wide adjacent surface streets make Anaheim Stadium one of the most accessible in baseball. Completion of the Orange "57" Freeway this year was expected to make a significant improvement as will a Santa Ana Freeway overpass on State College Boulevard, due for completion next year.

The stadium is owned by the city of Anaheim with the Angels holding the primary lease of 35 years. It was completed in 1966 by the Del W. Webb Company after an Aug. 31, 1964 groundbreaking at a cost of $24 million, including the giant A-frame scoreboard which rises 230 feet. It is the source of the stadium's nickname—"the Big-A."

For the statistically minded, there are: 42,000 cubic yards of concrete; 7,000,000 pounds of reinforcing steel; 8,000,000 pounds of structural steel; 500,000 nuts and bolts; and 1,900 lights in the stadium, which covers 782,000 square feet. The architect was Nobel Herzberg.
